THE VINEYARD

The rudder in crafting Dutton-Goldfield wines is our endeavor to produce wines that our winemakers love to drink. We see no more reliable assessment, and besides, it covers our downside risk. Walker Chardonnay is a wine we hugely love to drink, and owes its existence to that fact. We've been producing wine from the old Wente vines up at Walker since 2006 for our Dutton Ranch Chardonnay, and the preponderance of the barrels still support that program; but the 2011 Walker was the jewel of the year for Dan and a designated bottling just had to be done. This wine is everything we want of Green Valley Chardonnay: powerful citrus fruit and tense acidity wrapped in the candied setting of classic chardonnay winemaking. The block, planted in the early 1980s, is situated 500 vertical feet above Purrington Creek on fluffy Goldridge soil. The vines produce the tiny berries with thick skins we love from old Wente in Green Valley.

WINEMAKING

This wine is such a pleasure to produce, other than the 6 months it seems to always take to complete its fermentations – ah, the beauty of old vine chard. We fermented just over half of the Walker Hill with indigenous yeast and hedged our bets on the other portion with M2, a favorite inoculum. We combined the indigenous and M2 lots right after fermentation to create the blend in April 2022, then went back to barrel on primary lees again until bottling in Spring 2023. We vary the barrels a bit for complexity in this wine, but focus on Seguin Moreau for its ginger notes, and Taransaud for the great structure and subtle toffee flavor. Walker is all about the lively, bright fruit, so care to stay out of its way is crucial.

THE WINE

The 2021 vintage really showcases the focused juiciness of our Walker Hill. Forward aromas of lemon and tangerine lead the way, highlighted with just the right touch of toasty caramel to round out the lively citrus. The bright crystalline fruit continues in the mouth, with Meyer lemon accompanied by Asian pear and kiwi, along with crème brûlée and a pretty white flower floral touch. Impeccably balanced and long in the finish, this is a wine that will age beautifully for several more years. Enjoy it with creamy dishes that juxtapose the laser brightness, like crab Louie, lobster ravioli in a lemon cream sauce, or Tuscan chicken.

Dutton-Goldfield Winery began in a vineyard in 1998, when longtime colleagues and friends Steve Dutton and Dan Goldfield recognized a shared vision between them—to craft wines that express the personalities of their vineyards, and which they'd enjoy drinking at their own dinner tables. Our mission is to produce world-class wines that display the brightness of fruit, complexity, structure and balance that are reflective of our cool coastal home.
